Atlantan Is Elected President, Others Are Honored by Bakers

L. M. Collins, of the Collins Baking Company of Atlanta, was elected president, and other officers were chosen Monday by members of the Southern Bakers Association holding a two-day session at the Biltmore hotel.

A. L. Salley, of the Piedmont Baking Company, of Statesville, N. C., was elected vice president, and J. B. Everidge, of the Everidge Bakeries of Columbus, was re-elected treasurer.

Instead of the usual board of directors, the members elected a board of governors, consisting of two bakers from each southern state. C. S. Broome, of the American Bakeries of Atlanta, and O. W. Miller, of the Lee Baking Company, Atlanta, were named governors for Georgia.

A dinner-dance was held at the Biltmore hotel on Monday night, and a golf tournament Monday morning at East Lake.

Monday's session, beginning at 2 o'clock, was devoted to the reading of technical papers and business discussions.

The first step in "Five Steps to Profit" was taken up Monday by Howard Fisch, of the Highland Bakeries, Atlanta, who gave a market survey. Ross Anderson, of Minneapolis, and L. M. Brown, of Cincinnati, discussed the second step, "Make the Products Your Market Demands."

President John L. Greer, of Knoxville, opened the session with his report. The report of the secretary and treasurer followed. Mr. Broome spoke on "The Industry's Condition and Outlook, and Why."

President Greer outlined the association's plan for dealing with the future.

$3,000,000 OAKLAND FIRE BLAMED ON CIGARET

OAKLAND, Cal., May 8.—(AP)—Investigating officials suggested today a careless tossed cigarette may have caused the $3,000,000 fire here Saturday.

The fire destroyed the Key route interurban-ferry terminal in San Francisco bay, a ferry boat and rolling stock. It is believed to have originated on a ferry slip where a barge had been unloading fuel oil.

WAGES INCREASED BY TEXTILE MILLS

More Than 9,000 Employees in South Carolina Are Affected.

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 8.—(AP)—More than 9,000 employees in 20 Piedmont South Carolina textile mills were given 10 per cent wage increases today, reflecting better business conditions and "appreciation of the loyalty" of the workers.

Mills here and in Greenwood, Ninety-Six, Woodruff, Reufrew, Liberty, Simpsonville, Easley and Fountain Inn were affected by the increases.

Meanwhile other mill officials were adding workers to the factory rolls while still others contemplated "wage adjustments."

Over the week-end the Greenwood, Mathews, Panola No. 1 and Grendell mills at Greenwood and the Ninety-Six mills at Ninety-Six announced the increase.

Today additional announcements were made by the Brandon Corporation here for the Brandon and Poinsett mills here; the Renfrew at Renfrew, and the Brandon Corporation plant at Woodruff. The Woodside mills, with plants here, in Simpsonville and Fountain Inn, and the Easley Mills, with two plants at Liberty and one at Easley, also increased their employees' pay.

Late today officials of the Victor Monaghan Mills said their five plants would immediately increase wages of employees, but the amount of the increase was not specified.

The Woodruff and Easley officials in announcing the increase said: "This increase is not based so much on earnings but to show our appreciation for the loyalty of our help. They stood by us without a murmur and we planned to remember them as soon as we could do so. We are doing that now and, on the prospect of better times, we can announce this wage increase."

Officials of the Judson mills here said a number of employees had been recalled to work during the past few days and that orders were piling up. W. J. Bailey, of the Clinton Mills, said, when asked about wages in his mills: "We will have to wait and see how long this prosperity lasts. We only hope that it is not a flash in the pan. It looks like the genuine thing, but only time will tell."

Mill management in other sections said business was improving.

Leading textile firms in Georgia reported Monday that no further general wage increase is contemplated. It was explained by many officials that Georgia's wage scale has been maintained above that in South Carolina for some time.

'RAFFLES' BURGLAR TALKS SELF FREE FOR BRIEF PERIOD

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 8.—(AP)—Police here believe they have a counterpart of the fictional "Raffles" in a prisoner held to answer charges in connection with robberies here and in Danville, Va.

Returning from a dance Saturday night A. D. Barksdale, local attorney found a man of medium height and distinguished appearance fumbling with articles on a dresser in his bedroom. The intruder explained that he was "Officer Ferguson," of the police department and that he had come to investigate a robbery taking place early in the evening.

Mr. Barksdale recalled no such officer but let the man go when he explained that he was an "under-cover man." Shortly afterward the man returned for a blackjack he had forgotten and which he said, as he picked it up with a handkerchief, "might contain valuable finger prints."

Later a call to police headquarters revealed that there was no Officer Ferguson known there and during the night a man giving the name of Thomas J. Burns was arrested and identified by Mr. Barksdale as the visitor at his home. In his possession were articles of jewelry identified as belonging to the Barksdale family.

The suit and overcoat he wore were identified as having been stolen last month from the home of H. L. Boatwright, of Danville.

SMALL PEACH CROP, GOOD RETURN SEEN

Conditions at this time point to a moderately small peach crop for Georgia this year and the crop at marketing time will bring a fair return to growers, Judge Max L. McRae, director of the bureau of markets of the state department of agriculture, said Monday. He said that the hailstorm of Sunday did heavy damage to the peach crop in Spalding, Meriwether and adjoining counties.

The Georgia crop is responding to the favorable weather which prevailed through the peach belt last week," Judge McRae said. "From all information available the crop should mature normally. It will be moderately small and should yield a fair return to the farmers."

FLORIDA SENATE ASKS DRASTIC SALARY CUTS

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 8.—(AP)—With only four dissenting votes the Florida senate late today passed a bill reducing salaries of state officials and officers of courts approximately 20 per cent.

After spending much of the past three weeks discussing and amending the salary bill, the senate today passed it without debate. The vote was 29 to 4.

The bill, which now goes to the house for consideration, reduces the annual pay of the governor from $9,000 to $7,500 and cuts the six cabinet officers from $6,000 to $5,000.

It slashes the salary of the chairman of the road department from $5,400 a year to $4,800, but it leaves that of the four members at $600 a year each.

The state auditor is cut from $4,500 a year to $3,600. The assistant auditors are placed at $2,400 each. Some received $3,000 and some $2,500. The assistant general is reduced from $4,500 to $3,600.

Supreme court justices are cut from $7,800 a year to $6,000, and circuit judges are cut from $6,750 a year to $5,500.

'31 and '32 'Antiques' To Be Sold at Auction

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP)—Ten van loads of old "antique" furniture, dating back to 1831 and 1832, will be sold at auction by the United States government Thursday because it was misrepresented on a customs declaration.

The furniture, made in England with such craftsmanship that customs agents said many of the pieces could easily be passed off on amateur collectors, was confiscated upon its arrival in Boston harbor last July.

The shipment was declared as "antiques," which under the tariff laws means articles made prior to 1830, but with a few exceptions the law forbids the export of reproductions. The few exceptions were found to be genuine antiques. The shipment was consigned to a Boston furniture dealer, who never received it.

3 PERUVIAN WARSHIPS ENTER DUTCH PORT

WILLEMSTAD, Dutch West Indies, May 8.—(AP)—Three Peruvian warships, bound for the upper Amazon country where Colombia and Peru are having a border conflict, were permitted to enter the harbor today to take on fuel and provisions.

The visiting ships—the cruiser Almirante Grau and two submarines—exchanged salutes with the port authorities. Permission to enter the harbor was arranged at a conference of the Peruvian consul, Peruvian naval officials and the governor. It was announced that the provisions were to be sufficient to enable the ships to reach the nearest port.

LEAGUE BODY PROCEEDS WITH PEACE ENDEAVORS

GENEVA, May 8.—(AP)—The League of Nations committee seeking to compose the conflict between Peru and Colombia did its utmost today to prevent general hostilities from developing.

The committee will appeal to both countries to exercise restraint—Peru as to her warships and Colombia as to her seaplanes, which she desires to send the Dutch West Indies and to Dutch Guiana.

The Dutch representative at the League said that his government had decided to refuse its facilities to both the Peruvian squadron and the Colombian seaplanes. He went so far as to say that the military forces of neither party would be admitted into Dutch territory, and hence there was surprise when news reached here that the warships had entered the harbor at Willemstad. The Dutch spokesman said that if one of the vessels had been damaged his government scarcely could refuse repair facilities.

SCHOOL SALES TAX URGED FOR FLORIDA

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 8.—(AP)—An amendment to the state constitution to aid public schools by a general sales tax of 3 per cent was proposed in the house today by Representative Rogers, of Broward county. With legislative approval the resolution would be submitted to the voters at the November general election next year.

Meanwhile 3 1/2 per cent beer became legal when at 9 o'clock this morning Governor Dave Sholtz signed measures passed by the legislature.

In the general sales tax resolution, a possible gubernatorial veto was avoided as Governor Sholtz had declared he would not sign a measure of that kind. He has no veto power over legislative action on proposed constitutional amendments.

Officials and Police Aroused By Speeders, Hit-Run Drivers

High police officials of Atlanta will come actively to the aid of Police Chief Sturdivant today in a campaign against speeders and reckless drivers of autos who during the week-end killed two persons in the city streets and injured others.

Supporting the stand taken by Chief Sturdivant, Councilman G. Dan Bridges, chairman of the police committee, and Councilman W. G. Hastings, chairman of the traffic committee, said the full force of the department would be thrown behind the chief.

"I will appear," said Hastings, "personally before the various watches today and talk with officers in an effort to enforce the traffic laws. The revelation that Atlanta is the second city of its size in the number of traffic deaths reported and the alarming loss of lives and property serves to further stress the need for a uniform drivers' license law."

Bridges said he would support the police to the limit and that "no quarter will be given to any violator because we are determined to put an end to the wave of reckless driving and speeding which has swept the city."

Chief Talks to Watch. Alarmed by the deaths of Henry L. Bellinger, Atlanta attorney, and James D. Gowder, 11-year-old schoolboy, Saturday night, Chief Sturdivant Monday issued drastic orders to policemen. The victims were struck by a hit-and-run car early Saturday night on Central avenue. Detectives found the death car, but late Monday no arrest had been made.

Talking before the morning watch Monday, Chief Sturdivant urged policemen to cease their vigilance on "petty offenses" and to concentrate on speeders and reckless drivers in the highways and in important streets.

He said the recorders had promised to co-operate by placing heavy penalties on violators and that no tickets would be torn up or cases wiped off the books "regardless of whether the offender is a bank president, office worker or a common laborer."

The crusade was due to swing into full force today while funeral services were being held for Mr. Bellinger and Gowder, with several officers concentrating on the capture of the negro driver who struck them down.

Another hit-and-run driver proceeding along Jackson street Monday struck and overturned a car driven by Hewitt Hall, a negro, of 849 Greenleaf avenue. The machine dashed away before witnesses could obtain the license number.

S. M. Tucker, of a Harrison road address in East Point, was locked up on a charge of driving while intoxicated Monday after his machine struck two others on Fair street, near Washington. In neither accident were there personal injuries, police reports said.

Child's Condition Critical. James Yynn, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lynn, of Cullman, Ala., injured in a crash Sunday, continued in a "critical condition" at Grady hospital Monday night. Doctors said the child bore severe brain injury and possible fracture of the skull.

Two of Atlanta's motor clubs joined the crusade Monday with promises to vigorously prosecute traffic lawbreakers. They pointed to the high death and property toll in Atlanta as another evidence of the need of regulatory measures for examining and licensing drivers.

Charles A. Cook, secretary of the Dixie Motor Club, said he would push cases against reckless drivers when they came before his attention. "The wave of accidents," he said, "shows plainly that citizens must be awakened to the real danger. I believe the police force to be doing good work, but in order to stamp out the excessive toll of speeders and reckless drivers, all law-abiding persons must co-operate."

Jack Strouss, secretary of the Atlanta Motor Club, also promised co-operation in the campaign and said he would work to aid the police in stamping out reckless driving and wanton disregard for the laws.

He said the recorders had promised to co-operate by placing heavy penalties on violators and that no tickets would be torn up or cases wiped off the books "regardless of whether the offender is a bank president, office worker or a common laborer."

HIT-AND-RUN VICTIMS TO BE BURIED TODAY

Bellinger Rites Will Be Held Here, Gowder Funeral in Gainesville.

Funeral services for two victims of a hit-and-run driver Saturday night will be held today, with rites for H. L. Bellinger, 31, well-known Atlanta lawyer, set for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church.

The body of James D. Gowder, 11, of 430 Central avenue, at 9 o'clock this morning will be taken to Gainesville, Ga., where funeral and interment will be held.

Rites for Mr. Bellinger will be attended by many of Atlanta's leading citizens and public figures, including Governor Eugene Talmadge, room-mate of Mr. Bellinger at the University of Georgia; Ben W. Bostener, Mark Bolding, Judge Hugh M. Dorsey, N. L. Beall and W. P. Bloodworth. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Sturdivant, pastor of the church, and interment will be in Greenwood.

Mr. Bellinger and the boy were killed on Central avenue, near Alice street, Saturday night by an automobile driven by a negro at a high rate of speed. Mr. Bellinger was well known in the state, and during college days he was captain of the football team at the University of Georgia and captain of the baseball team at Mercer University. He was the son of Albert and Mary G. Bellinger, pioneer Atlanta citizens.

Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lyle Brooks, of Atlanta; a sister, Mrs. L. F. Bellinger, both of Decatur, and a foster-son, Lieutenant T. W. Tolman, of the United States navy.

Gowder is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tarley.

JENKS IS APPOINTED PACIFIC LIFE AGENT

Emory L. Jenks has been appointed general agent of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company's office in Atlanta, it was announced Saturday by E. E. Henderson, representative of the home office, who was in the city for the purpose of installing Mr. Jenks in his new office.

Mr. Jenks has been with the company for the past 12 years. Since 1923 he has been identified with the sales activities of the local agency. He is one of the few underwriters in the entire organization who have been members of the "App-a-week" Club since January, 1924, which means that not a week has passed during those nine and one-half years that he hasn't written at least one life insurance policy.

Mr. Jenks has also been a member of the company's "Big Tree Club" since January, 1924, an organization composed of the leading underwriters in the company. He received a special insurance degree from New York University in 1927, in addition to his bachelor of science degree from Georgia Tech in 1925.

He has lived in Atlanta all of his life. He is a past vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, member of the Underwriters Association and president of the Atlanta alumni chapter of Theta Chi fraternity.

The address of welcome will be made by Hon. William B. Harrison, insurance commissioner of the state of Georgia, and the response is to be made by S. L. Johnson, of Charleston, S. C.

JUDGE IS ASKED TO CHANGE STAND IN REYNOLDS CASE

SALISBURY, N. C., May 8.—(AP) Attorneys for the Cabarrus Bank & Trust Co. today argued before Judge Wilson Warlick, in superior court here, that his judgment in the recent Cannon-Reynolds estate hearing here should be limited to his announced refusal of its plea that Mrs. Annie L. Cannon be forced to join with it, as co-guardian, in a court fight over the estate rights of Anne Cannon Reynolds II.

The judge had previously announced the judgment would also approve an agreement under which the estate of the late Smith Reynolds, heir to a portion of the R. J. Reynolds tobacco millions, would be used to establish a charitable foundation after $5,000,000 had been divided equally between the former Anne Cannon and her child on one side and Libby Holman Reynolds, the second wife, and her child.

The bank contends the agreement was not a part of its petition, and should be acted upon in a separate action, while attorneys for the Cannons upheld the judge's original stand.

Both sides presented judgments which they wished signed, and Judge Warlick announced he would render his decision tomorrow morning. He indicated his original stand would not be changed.

Invitations were extended to leading shoe stores and department stores to have their personnel attending, and the acceptance, has been gratifying, asserted Mr. Cowden.

FULTON COUNTY TO CUT PUBLIC WORKS COSTS

Plans To Reduce Expenses Discussed at Executive Meeting of Board.

Retrenchment in operation costs of the county's public works department will be made immediately, it was learned Monday at an executive meeting of the county board of commissioners.

There were 19 men present, in addition to the five members of the board, and two plans were discussed informally. The board will meet again today or Wednesday for final action on the plans, which are to be tabulated by the county auditor in order to ascertain the amount of saving each would bring. The commissioners pointed out to the public works men that due to the fact that no paving is now being undertaken retrenchment is possible.

The personnel has been reduced from 565 men to 452 since last June and the commissioners seek a plan to reduce expenses without cutting any more men from the pay roll. Two plans were proposed. The first is for the taking of one week's salary from each man each month for four months. The men would be allowed to take this week off but operations would not be suspended, employees being switched around to care for the vacancies.

The wardens, however, appeared to be in favor of a plan of operating but five days a week. In this way each man would lose his Saturday and Sunday pay and cost of operations on Saturday would be eliminated. The five-day week would be effective the remainder of the year.

The board pointed out that the county is at present operating within its 1933 budget but that any shrinkage in revenue would throw things out of balance, and that curtailment in the public works department will make it doubly sure that the county will operate within its 1933 budget and at the same time help reduce the current deficit from 1932.

Deaths of Two.

STATENVILLE, Ga., May 8.—Lowell Hagan, of Echols county, was released from a charge of murder in connection with the deaths of Bremer and Earl Hutchinson.

Hagan was given a preliminary hearing here before Judge J. S. Price, who said the evidence was not sufficient to hold Hagan.

Lowell and Hutchinson were shot to death in a truck a few miles from Fargo on the night of April 2, and Omer Strickland, another white man, was seriously wounded.

After an investigation a warrant was sworn out against Hagan, charging him with murder, and after being held in the Echols jail at Statenville for several days his release was ordered by the committing judge.

MERCHANTS IN ROME EXPRESS OPTIMISM

ROME, Ga., May 8.—The approval of the United States Board of engineers of a plan to construct levees and dykes at Rome as a flood control measure at an expenditure of $170,000 and plans for drainage of this section of the Etowah, Oostanaula and Coosa rivers to cost approximately $350,000, together with an increase in real estate sales and retail business by merchants has brought a wave of optimism in Rome.

The plans for government expenditures on the three rivers and at Rome are being included in the general plan of waterway development of President Roosevelt and it is expected will be authorized prior to the prospective adjournment of congress by June 1.

Rome real estate firms report the most active market in the past four years. Many sales of houses and lots and farm property have been reported in the past 10 days. The real estate men say that Romans have realized that the bottom prices have been reached and that real estate is increasing in value.

Rome merchants reported a much increased trading this past week despite the advance in food stuffs and other commodities and in clothing.

NAVY OPERATING COST REDUCED TO $270,000,000

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—Although congress voted the navy department $308,000,000 for its operating expenses during the next fiscal year, Secretary Swanson disclosed today that an agreement had been reached with the budget bureau whereby the figure would be slashed to $270,000,000.

The secretary did not say what specific economies had been made to reach this figure, but said the navy had remained adamant against a further cut of $2,000,000 asked by the budget bureau.

Drastic cuts in shore establishments, training activities, recruiting and savings in officer and enlisted personnel probably will be among the economies.

ATLANTA, GA., MAY 9, 1933.

POLICE MUST GET BUSY.
Chief Sturdivant's vigorous orders, following the recent alarming increase in serious hit-and-run automobile accidents, for the launching of an intensive drive against violators of the traffic laws, should be followed up actively by every member of the force—or the chief should know the reason why.

If the traffic squad and the patrolmen on the various beats throughout the city will get on the job as they should, they can, over night, bring about the conditions of safety that should exist on Atlanta's streets.

The chief has taken the right step in ordering more rigid enforcement of the traffic ordinances—but the change from the lackadaisical enforcement which has led to the present unbearable conditions should not be, as has been the case so often in the past, in the nature of a temporary "drive," during which police activities are speeded up only to soon get back in the old rut, un-noticed with violations continuously occurring under the very eyes of the men charged with their prevention.

The sort of enforcement the city has had during the frequent drives of the past is the kind that it should be regularly in effect.

What Atlanta needs is more speedy arrests and less speedy driving—all the time.

If we had that kind of enforcement of the traffic laws such tragedies as those of Saturday night, when a speeding car took the lives of a well-known Atlanta attorney and a young boy, would be reduced to a minimum, and the city would not have to bear the discredit of her present standing among other cities in her population class in the number of persons killed by automobiles on its thoroughfares.

Of the 13 cities in the United States having a population between 250,000 and 650,000, only one, Denver, has a higher per capita death rate from automobile accidents for the first four months of the year.

There is but one reason for this unenviable showing—the fact that the police are not on the job.

They must get busy, and stay busy, in the apprehension of those who wilfully violate the reasonable traffic ordinances in force, and it is up to Chief Sturdivant to see to it that they do.

MUSCOGEE'S FINE EXAMPLE.
Muscoogee county in raising more than twice the amount allotted to it as its share of the fund for the new Georgia Hall building at Warm Springs has set a fine and inspiring example to every other county in the state.

Muscoogee's allotment was $2,500 but under the direction of James W. Woodruff, the county chairman, in excess of $5,000 has already been subscribed by 3,000 contributors.

The proposed new building is to take the place of the antiquated old inn which now serves both for the entertainment of the public and as headquarters for the activities of the Warm Springs Foundation. Without modern conveniences it is more of a handicap than a help to the wonderful work for the rehabilitation of stricken humanity now being done at Warm Springs.

The replacement of this unsatisfactory building with a modern, properly equipped structure is the purpose of the movement to raise a $100,000 fund for the erection of a new central unit for the Warm Springs plant.

An even more appealing reason—one of sentiment and appreciation—is the opportunity offered to every Georgian to take part in a lasting testimonial of the state's appreciation to Franklin D. Roosevelt, the man, for his labor in behalf of the Warm Springs Foundation, the reputation of which has, in a few short years, spread to the four corners of the earth.

It is especially desired by Chairman Cason Calloway and the committee at the head of the drive for the $100,000 fund that it be completed at an early date in order that the new building may be ready to open when President Roosevelt comes to Warm Springs for his customary fall visit.

Muscoogee county has set the pace, and every county in the state should catch step with it.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.
A significant phase of President Roosevelt's "report" to the country on what is being done in Washington is the assurance given by him that the relief remedies now in his hands will be applied with caution and only to the extent necessary.

His comment on the currency inflation plan is simple, succinct and reassuring to those who have had fears that even controlled inflation might have the same disastrous effects in this country as uncontrolled inflation has had in nations which have been forced to resort to that expedient.

In explaining the purpose of the inflationary move, and the limits within which it will be held, the president says:

The administration has the definite objective of raising commodity prices to such an extent that those who have borrowed money will, on the average, be able to repay that money in the same kind of dollar which they borrowed. We do not seek to let them get such a cheap dollar that they will be able to pay back a great deal less than they borrowed.

In other words, we seek to correct a wrong and not to create another wrong in the opposite direction. That is why powers are being given to the administration to provide, if necessary, for an enlargement of credit, in order to correct the existing wrong.

These powers will be used, when, as, and if it may be necessary to accomplish the purpose.

While assuring the people of the nation that their government will move carefully and conservatively in the application of the various relief measures, President Roosevelt warns the people of the country against letting the upward turn in conditions lead them into another speculative wave. Such a course, he points out, "may bring us immediate and false prosperity but it will be the kind of prosperity that will lead us into another tailspin."

The president follows his assurance that radicalism will have no place in the application of the relief program being worked out by declaring that it is "wholly wrong" to hold that these policies seek government control of industry, agriculture and the railroads. Rather, he asserts, they contemplate "a partnership in planning and a partnership to see that the plans are carried out."

The president forewarns that mistakes may be made, because some of the courses lay along uncharted routes.

He will at least do something, and that is better than nothing, for it would be difficult for anything to be worse than what the country has gone through during the last two years.

The address, like the others the president has delivered since his inauguration, will have a buoyant effect.

His comment on the currency inflation plan is simple, succinct and reassuring to those who have had fears that even controlled inflation might have the same disastrous effects in this country as uncontrolled inflation has had in nations which have been forced to resort to that expedient.

In explaining the purpose of the inflationary move, and the limits within which it will be held, the president says:

The administration has the definite objective of raising commodity prices to such an extent that those who have borrowed money will, on the average, be able to repay that money in the same kind of dollar which they borrowed. We do not seek to let them get such a cheap dollar that they will be able to pay back a great deal less than they borrowed.

In other words, we seek to correct a wrong and not to create another wrong in the opposite direction. That is why powers are being given to the administration to provide, if necessary, for an enlargement of credit, in order to correct the existing wrong.

These powers will be used, when, as, and if it may be necessary to accomplish the purpose.

While assuring the people of the nation that their government will move carefully and conservatively in the application of the various relief measures, President Roosevelt warns the people of the country against letting the upward turn in conditions lead them into another speculative wave. Such a course, he points out, "may bring us immediate and false prosperity but it will be the kind of prosperity that will lead us into another tailspin."

The president follows his assurance that radicalism will have no place in the application of the relief program being worked out by declaring that it is "wholly wrong" to hold that these policies seek government control of industry, agriculture and the railroads. Rather, he asserts, they contemplate "a partnership in planning and a partnership to see that the plans are carried out."

The president forewarns that mistakes may be made, because some of the courses lay along uncharted routes.

He will at least do something, and that is better than nothing, for it would be difficult for anything to be worse than what the country has gone through during the last two years.

The address, like the others the president has delivered since his inauguration, will have a buoyant effect.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.
A significant phase of President Roosevelt's "report" to the country on what is being done in Washington is the assurance given by him that the relief remedies now in his hands will be applied with caution and only to the extent necessary.

His comment on the currency inflation plan is simple, succinct and reassuring to those who have had fears that even controlled inflation might have the same disastrous effects in this country as uncontrolled inflation has had in nations which have been forced to resort to that expedient.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

Far East Grows Serious.

The government of Manchukuo has closed the soviet frontier. The constant friction with the soviet over the Chinese Eastern railway, which runs through Manchuria and which is jointly owned and operated by Manchukuo and the soviet, has reached a deadlock. This is quite comprehensible. Manchukuo wants sole control of that railway or at least wants the soviet participation in that control eliminated. Rather than have the soviet, the Manchurian government would see France take over the railway. The New York Times reports that secret negotiations between Japan and France are proceeding in Paris on this very subject.

It is in a position to say that those negotiations have so far resulted in a Japanese offer to France of a 50 per cent share in the Chinese Eastern railway.

If France accepts, a serious situation arises, not only for the soviet, but also for the United States of America. So far, the soviet union has been the only great power opposing Japan's diplomacy in the far east. Washington has merely protested. Japan is anxious to have at least one great power recognize the independence of Manchuria. It is bringing pressure to bear on Moscow to be that first power. The intrigue and chicanery over the Chinese Eastern railway is Japan's method of this pressure and intimidation. I learn on the best authority that Moscow is willing to part with its share in that railway in consideration of a sum of a hundred million dollars. This means that Moscow can no longer hold out alone against Japan. This means, to put it in every-day language, that Moscow can not be expected to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for America.

Moscow is reluctant to change her policy in the far east. It awaits support from these many months. Recognition of the soviet government by Washington would be of immense moral support for Moscow at the present time. If that recognition is not shortly forthcoming, the American policy in the far east will be seriously weakened. This means that Moscow is in a position to say that those negotiations have so far resulted in a Japanese offer to France of a 50 per cent share in the Chinese Eastern railway.

MOTT MAY JOIN CHICKS MONDAY; TECH, GEORGIA PLAY FRIDAY

MEMLPHIS SCOUT TO WATCH STAR AGAINST TECH

Upon His Report Hinges Buster's Chances With Leaders.

By Al Smith.

ATHENS, Ga., May 8.—Buster Mott, heavy-hitting Georgia outfielder, may be in left field in a Memphis uniform when the Atlanta Braves and the Chicago Cubs open their series at Ponce de Leon park next Monday.

Mott, who will finish his collegiate baseball career at the Georgia Tech Friday and Saturday, tonight wired Manager "Doc" Prothro that he would be in position to join the Memphis club after the close of the Georgia season Saturday. Manager Prothro will have a scout in the stands watching Mott perform against the Tech Jacks and the scout's report hinges Mott's chance of joining the league-leading Chicks.

FINE RECORD. Mott has been at bat 48 times during the Georgia season, has scored 14 runs, and has hit safely 17 times for a batting average of .354. The star Georgia outfielder has hit well over .300 during his three years as a Bulldog and has been an excellent base-runner. Mott is a real ball hawk. He roams over center field like a finished expert. His presence in the outfield for Georgia has meant much to the Bulldogs.

Manager Prothro wired Mott Monday asking if he would consider a berth with the Chicks. He told the Atlanta that he had seen him play in 1931 and was much impressed with his ability. He added that he would have a scout watching Mott during the Tech series in Atlanta.

Mott replied that he would like to join the Chicks but he intended finishing his baseball career at Georgia.

SURPRISE. News of Memphis efforts to obtain Mott came as a surprise here, since it was generally believed that Mott would join the Newark club after his graduation.

However, Newark, a New York Yankee farm, seems to be surfeited with good ball players, many of them former Yankees. Spurgeon Chandler, a former Bulldog, is at present with Newark.

Mott has had a brilliant athletic career at Georgia. He was one of the nation's outstanding half backs during the three years he played for Georgia. As a baseball player he has also starred. He made the All-Dixie College league team in 1931.

Bulldogs Win Southeastern Race. The first Southeastern Conference baseball championship has been won by the University of Georgia.

Although the Athens Bulldogs yet have two games to play they can lose both and still finish at the top. The Southeastern championship was clinched as Georgia swept a two-game series last week-end with Georgia Tech. Georgia now has six victories and one defeat. The lone setback came at the hands of Alabama. However, Georgia won three of its four games with the Alabama school.

Alabama, in addition to spoiling Georgia's perfect record also ruined Mississippi State's chances. The Mississippians had won four straight when they tackled the Tide, but dropped three out of their four games against Alabama.

The standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Georgia	6	1	.857
Mississippi	4	3	.571
Alabama	3	3	.500
Arkansas	3	3	.500
Louisiana State University	4	4	.500

None of the other seven Southeastern Conference schools has won a game entered in conference competition.

Fairley Clark Sets Sea Island Record

BRUNSWICK, Ga., May 8.—(P)—Fairley Clark, Savannah golf professional, has tied the record of 69 for the difficult Sea Island Beach course made a year ago by Hugh Moore, former island professional, now at Radcliff Springs, Albany.

Some of the country's golfing great have played the course and up to the time Clark made his 69, par has been equalled but twice. Bobby Jones played the course before it was completed but has never been over the 115 holes.

It required seven birdies for Clark to tie the course record. Par is 71. His card follows:

1st 433 434 445
 2nd 433 434 445
 3rd 433 434 445

Birdies came on the fourth, fifth, seventh, eleventh, fourteenth, fifteenth and eighteenth.

Moran To Return As Catawba Coach

SALISBURY, N. C., May 8.—(P)—Charlie Moran, veteran National league umpire and former Center College football coach, wired Catawba College athletic officials today he would return next fall for another season as head coach. Moran has been considering a similar post at the University of Louisville.

Girls' League

Four games are scheduled for the second round of play in the girls' Cherokee Basketball league, two on Tuesday and two on Thursday.

Emmanuel Baptist defeated Center Street Methodist in the only game played last week. All other were rained out.

Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock Alpha Class plays Emanuel Baptist while Kirkwood Baptist meets Pottsville Memorial, both games scheduled for the Grant Park diamonds.

Thursday at the same time Druid Hills Methodist plays Kirkwood Mission at southeast Piedmont park, while Naborhood Chapel engages Center Street Methodist on the Waterworks diamond. Another meeting of the managers will be held at Wesley Memorial church Friday night.

Manager Prothro will have a scout in the stands watching Mott perform against the Tech Jacks and the scout's report hinges Mott's chance of joining the league-leading Chicks.

FINE RECORD. Mott has been at bat 48 times during the Georgia season, has scored 14 runs, and has hit safely 17 times for a batting average of .354. The star Georgia outfielder has hit well over .300 during his three years as a Bulldog and has been an excellent base-runner. Mott is a real ball hawk. He roams over center field like a finished expert. His presence in the outfield for Georgia has meant much to the Bulldogs.

Manager Prothro wired Mott Monday asking if he would consider a berth with the Chicks. He told the Atlanta that he had seen him play in 1931 and was much impressed with his ability. He added that he would have a scout watching Mott during the Tech series in Atlanta.

Mott replied that he would like to join the Chicks but he intended finishing his baseball career at Georgia.

SURPRISE. News of Memphis efforts to obtain Mott came as a surprise here, since it was generally believed that Mott would join the Newark club after his graduation.

However, Newark, a New York Yankee farm, seems to be surfeited with good ball players, many of them former Yankees. Spurgeon Chandler, a former Bulldog, is at present with Newark.

Mott has had a brilliant athletic career at Georgia. He was one of the nation's outstanding half backs during the three years he played for Georgia. As a baseball player he has also starred. He made the All-Dixie College league team in 1931.

Bulldogs Win Southeastern Race. The first Southeastern Conference baseball championship has been won by the University of Georgia.

Although the Athens Bulldogs yet have two games to play they can lose both and still finish at the top. The Southeastern championship was clinched as Georgia swept a two-game series last week-end with Georgia Tech. Georgia now has six victories and one defeat. The lone setback came at the hands of Alabama. However, Georgia won three of its four games with the Alabama school.

Alabama, in addition to spoiling Georgia's perfect record also ruined Mississippi State's chances. The Mississippians had won four straight when they tackled the Tide, but dropped three out of their four games against Alabama.

The standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Georgia	6	1	.857
Mississippi	4	3	.571
Alabama	3	3	.500
Arkansas	3	3	.500
Louisiana State University	4	4	.500

None of the other seven Southeastern Conference schools has won a game entered in conference competition.

Fairley Clark Sets Sea Island Record

BRUNSWICK, Ga., May 8.—(P)—Fairley Clark, Savannah golf professional, has tied the record of 69 for the difficult Sea Island Beach course made a year ago by Hugh Moore, former island professional, now at Radcliff Springs, Albany.

Some of the country's golfing great have played the course and up to the time Clark made his 69, par has been equalled but twice. Bobby Jones played the course before it was completed but has never been over the 115 holes.

It required seven birdies for Clark to tie the course record. Par is 71. His card follows:

1st 433 434 445
 2nd 433 434 445
 3rd 433 434 445

Birdies came on the fourth, fifth, seventh, eleventh, fourteenth, fifteenth and eighteenth.

DON BRENNAN HURLS PITCHES

TO 7-3 VICTORY

CHICAGO, May 8.—(P)—The world champion New York Yankees caught up with the west today for the first time since leaving the banks of the Harlem, beating the White Sox, 7 to 3, to open a new series and gain an even break in the first six games of the western invasion.

Don Brennan, big right hander, allowed ten hits but managed to stagger through the crises to his third straight victory. The Yankees belted Ted Lyons for 12 safeties and took advantage of six passes and two wild pitches. Lyons did far better on the field, getting a pair of doubles and a single.

Lou Gehrig, Ben Chapman and Frank Crosetti led the Yankee hitters with a double and single each while Babe Ruth weighed in with two singles. The Sox twice came from behind in the early innings to tie the score, but Lyons, without his usual control, faltered in the late stages of the game.

The Yankees' victory boosted their advantage at the top of the American league to a full game. Cleveland was idle. The Yanks had been fighting a losing battle since invading the west, dropping the opening game in Detroit before three out of five to the Indians before finding a "cousin" in Lyons today.

W.W. WAITS DENIES CHAMPIONING BEER

Alderman Says He Was 'Misunderstood,' But Asserts He Favors Session.

Alderman W. W. Waits, of the sixth ward, denied Monday night that he will offer an ordinance at Monday's session of council seeking to legalize the sale of 3.2 beer in Atlanta. His statement came after he was reported to have said he would present such a measure, and followed the action of Alma, Ga., in sanctioning such a move. Alma is the second Georgia city to pass such legislation, Savannah having preceded Alma by only a few days.

ments should regulate and tax such sales. Under the present system there is plenty of beer, but the pockets of bootleggers and racketeers are being lined with gold and all governments are suffering. I evidently was misunderstood in the matter, and am sorry that such was the case. If any such bill is presented, someone else will do it. At the present time I do not know of anyone who plans such action.

Legalization of beer in Florida leaves Georgia one of three southern states in which it cannot be sold legally. In other states beer was quoted at 20 cents a bottle, but Georgians, Mississippians and Alabamians, the only three allegedly bone dry states, were paying a premium of 15 cents on each bottle to bootleggers, pushing the total cost to 35 cents.

Mayor James L. Key is known to be a subscriber to any plan whereby Atlanta could tax beer sales.

With Florida, Tennessee and the Carolinas having legalized the brew, beer consigned to Florida is "hi-jack," as in Georgia by bootleggers, it was said. After being confiscated by the hi-jackers it is sold here.

The burden of proving that seized beer is being dispatched to a fake consignment falls on the state, and legal authorities said it would be a hard matter to obtain convictions under the present arrangement. The only hope would be to intercept a load being unloaded, which was regarded as an almost impossible task.

raised wages of some 2,000 employees 10 per cent.

Other developments of the business day:

Youngstown, Ohio—Steel production rose from 33 to 36 per cent of capacity, with three additional open hearth furnaces beginning operations.

New York—Santa Fe railroad carloadings for the week ended May 6 showed a gain over the corresponding 1932 period—the second consecutive week of improvement over a year ago. Total loadings were 21,908 against 21,410 last year.

New York—General Motors Corporation reported sales during April of 86,967 cars to dealers in United States and Canada, compared with 58,018 the previous month and 78,359 in April, 1932.

Dayton, Ohio—E. G. Biechler, president of Frigidaire Corporation, announced the company would more than double its production this month over May, 1932. Biechler said refrigerator orders were greatly increasing.

All plants of the corporation are working at capacity with 7,500 men employed, Biechler said.

Akron, Ohio—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. reported it recalled 500 tires during April and is now recalling 500 more. The General Tire & Rubber Co. is running at capacity.

All major rubber factories here are now working four shifts of six hours each day.

Lorain, Ohio—Seven of the 12 open hearth furnaces of the Lorain works of the National Tube Company were in operation with the addition of one more today. Seven ore boats are due here this week, compared with four a year ago.

R. F. C. LOANS DENOTE BUSINESS STIMULATION

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—A marked stimulation in business has been noted throughout the country by loan agency managers of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in recent weeks.

Here today for a conference with directors of the corporation, they reported a growing improvement in the attitude of bankers, businessmen and individuals in their districts.

One of the most notable factors in the situation, they said, is the liquidation in loans made by the Agricultural Credit Corporation and by the Reconstruction Corporation itself. In many districts the rate of repayment has increased materially since farmers began disposing of their products at the rising prices.

The meeting is in an effort to speed up the work of reorganizing closed banks and creating new ones through purchase of preferred stock.

UTILITIES VALUE SLASH IS UPHELD

for a general revaluation of utility properties. It is on these valuations that the rates which the public pays are based.

The appeal contended its properties were worth $65,000,000. The commission, using the previous value of the property minus the decline in the general price level, ruled they were worth only $65,500,000. It issued rates allowing a seven per cent return on this figure.

The company based its valuation on the testimony of its experts that the price level of December, 1920, when the suit was brought, showed a "temporary slump." The commission's experts placed their estimates on the price levels of the previous June.

Persisting on this phase of the question, Justice Hughes noted that the court could not be bound by any formula of determining value and added: "While cost must be considered, the court has held that it is not an exclusive or final test. The public has not underwritten the investment. The property, on any admissible standard of present value, may be worth more or less than it actually cost. The time and circumstances of the outlay, and the effect of altered conditions demand consideration."

Hughes then noted that the court had taken cognizance of changed economic conditions both during the inflation prior to 1929 and the subsequent depression.

"It is apparent that the estimates of cost of reproduction of 1929, or 1930," Hughes added, "afforded no secure foundation for prediction of future values, and the rate base as fixed by the commission is not to be invalidated as involving confiscation by reason of these estimates which the course of events deprives of credit as trustworthy prophecies."

DR. J. B. CONANT HEAD OF HARVARD

the chair in organic chemistry at Harvard he really headed a small college in itself. So he just applied science to executive duties and just how well he succeeded is told in today's news.

Selection Is Surprised

Mrs. Conant said she knew the Harvard Corporation was considering her son for the post but she said she had no idea that he would get it.

"In the first place, I was sure at first that he wanted it," she declared. "All of his life he has been doing the things that he wanted to do and he has just made up his mind that he wanted to try this job."

Mrs. Conant said her son would leave next week for Europe where he will spend several months studying foreign schools and colleges with a view toward finding something new for his college.

Mrs. Harold Bush-Brown, Dr. Conant's sister, is a distinguished artist and is president of the Association of Georgia Artists. Mr. Bush-Brown is head of the department of architecture at Georgia Tech.

Although Dr. Conant's nomination was subject to confirmation by the board of overseers June 21, the official announcement of his selection Monday was considered tantamount to final election.

Is Brilliant Chemist

Dr. Conant is regarded as one of the most brilliant of the younger organic chemists in this country. He has produced. Last year Columbia University awarded him the Chandler medal for achievements in chemical science in 1931 and shortly afterward the New York section of the American Chemical Society gave him the William H. Nichols medal for his work in organic chemistry, particularly in the chemistry of chlorophyll.

For two years he has been chairman of the division of chemistry at Harvard.

President Conant is just 40 years old. He was born in Dorchester, Mass., and, with the exception of his period of World War service, has always lived in Greater Boston.

His father was James Scott Conant, a pioneer in the engraving and illustrating business in Boston. The elder Conant was one of the first to introduce the fine art of wood engraving into the country.

He founded in 1876, was for many years the most famous engraving firm of the kind in the country. When photo-engraving succeeded wood engraving, he joined forces with the Suffolk Engraving Company, in 1905, and was vice president of the organization until his death in 1922.

Dr. Conant prepared for college at the Roxbury Latin school, a private school in West Roxbury, Mass. There he is said to have been an extremely brilliant pupil.

In Harvard Class of '14, at Harvard, which he entered with the class of 1914, Dr. Conant demonstrated his scholastic ability. In 1913 he took his A. B. Magna Cum Laude. He then entered the Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences and three years later received his Ph. D. While an undergraduate he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the Sigma and the Delta Upsilon Club. He was on the staff of the Crimson.

While at the graduate school Dr. Conant was on the teaching staff of the division of chemistry at Harvard, the first two years as an Austin Teaching Fellow, the last as a John Thornton Kirkland Fellow. For a few months, after he took his Ph. D., he successfully tried his hand at industrial chemical work, then returned to Harvard as an instructor in chemistry.

During the World War he did research work in the chemistry of explosives.

At least 3 million more men will be back at work by September

WE HAVE INVESTED ONE MILLION DOLLARS IN THAT BELIEF

By JAMES H. RAND, Jr., President
 REMINGTON RAND INC.

At least three million more men will be back to work in this country by September.

The past two years have crucified every forecast of better times. In spite of that, we state this as a conviction, for two reasons. The first is our faith in the wisdom of President Roosevelt. The second is that our business gives us a background of FACTS, both here and abroad, to back up that faith.

Through 200 branch offices and our 1800 Remington Rand salesmen, we have a continuous picture of every business activity in the United States. Through export offices and dealers in every country in the world, we see every fluctuation of international trade.

Two years ago our men found business drying up. The cause was not over-production. There was greater need for shoes, for clothing, for cars, than ever before in history. The trouble was an overburden of debt contracted at high prices. Governments, business, private individuals had gone too heavily into indebtedness at a time when the purchasing power of money was small. Credit stopped. We could buy no more, and prices collapsed. Then the whole business structure went out of gear.

More and more men and women lost their jobs. And people without jobs cannot buy.

The government recognized that prices had to start up before improvement could set in, and that this could be most quickly achieved by monetary measures. The foundation was laid.

The same Remington Rand findings which early revealed the trouble, now point to its end. Our export trade has already responded to the adjustment of the dollar. Treasuries are responding to the easing of debt. Buyers are responding to the strengthening of commodity prices. Money is beginning to move from one hand to another.

An estimate of three million more wage-earners back to work by September is conservative. It means a gain of less than 1 1/2%. And that means the recovery of only about 11% of America's loss in employment.

For two years we have been working quietly for readjustment of the dollar. We have foreseen it had to come... and that, with it, economic recovery would start. And we have anticipated our belief by perfecting more than 100 new products in the meantime, at a cost of over $1,000,000 for retooling alone. The Remington Noiseless Portable Typewriter has been brought to a new point of perfection. A new line of Safe-Cabinets has been completed. The Powers Accounting Machines have been entirely modernized. Only last month a new all-electrical accounting machine was developed—an important contribution to accounting progress.

Every one of these products has a place in the new order of things. They will do more work at the same cost, or the same work for less money. They help make it possible for people to produce more things which other people want and are willing to pay for. They help make it possible for people to earn more and buy more.

Business men are now safe in assuming that, thanks to the gold embargo, commodity prices will maintain their rise. The revaluation of gold holds forth prospect of a further increase in the prices of commodities, real estate and securities. Business men are also safe in discounting the accomplishment of many other much-needed steps. Among those in prospect are:

- liberalization of the Treasury's banking policy and the opening of more banks.
- new help for trade associations in protecting their industries from the demoralization of price-cutting.
- liberalization of credit to employers for the purpose of priming the industrial pump by re-employing people.
- temporary two-year Federal guarantee of bank deposits.

Give President Roosevelt's program your support by buying, by re-employing, now. Urge others to act now. There are millions of people in this country who have a hundred million unsatisfied wants. Put pay envelopes into their hands again, and watch them make the money move.

At least three million more of them will have these pay envelopes by September. That prediction is based on the knowledge of 1800 Remington Rand men who know every kind of business, in every city and in every state. It is based on the actual experience of a business that is a barometer of all businesses, both here and abroad.

SAFE, $5,000 STOLEN FROM ARKANSAS FIRM

TURRELL, Ark., May 8.—(AP)—A huge safe containing $5,000 in currency was hauled from the Menegrelli & Sons Mercantile store here early today.

Sheriff Howard Curdin said the safe was found in Big Creek, five miles away, and that it apparently had been broken with a sledge hammer. He said the loot included three $1,000 bills.

Atlanta Woman's Club Officers Are Installed At Annual Meeting Held in the Auditorium

Newly-elected officers of Atlanta Woman's Club were installed at the meeting held Monday afternoon in the auditorium of the clubhouse on Peachtree street, with Mrs. John F. MacDougald, president of Fifth District of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, in charge of the installation ceremony. Reading from left to right, first row, are Mrs. Montgomery K. Young, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. W. F. Westmoreland, first vice president; Mrs. Max E. Land, president; Mrs. J. B. Francis Herreshoff, second vice president; and Mrs. Walter A. Sims, third vice president. Second row, from left to right, are Mrs. Frederick C. Rice, auditor; Mrs. J. Bonar White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James A. Greene, treasurer; Mrs. Conrad E. Faust, recording secretary; and Mrs. H. C. Minier, assisting treasurer. Mrs. Land succeeds Mrs. William P. Dunn, who completed a successful two-year term on Monday, with a brilliant record of achievement to her credit, having served the club in a capable and charming manner. Photo by Kenneth Rogers, staff photographer.

The annual meeting held at the Atlanta Woman's Club on Monday afternoon brought to a close one of the club's most outstanding administrative sessions. Mrs. William P. Dunn, the retiring president, has a brilliant record of splendid accomplishments to her credit, and served the club for two years in a capable, graceful and charming manner.

The high light of the program was the installation of the new officers in the auditorium by Mrs. John F. MacDougald, president of Fifth District of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. The officers elected and installed include: Mrs. Max E. Land, president; Mrs. Willis Westmoreland, first vice president; Mrs. J. B. Francis Herreshoff, second vice president; Mrs. Walter A. Sims, third vice president; recording secretary, Mrs. Conrad E. Faust; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Montgomery K. Young; treasurer, Mrs. James A. Greene; assistant treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Minier; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. Bonar White, and auditor, Mrs. Fred Rice.

Memorial services for deceased members were conducted by Mrs. A. MacD. Wilson, chairman of memorials, and a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Mary Griffith Dobbs, chairman of music, included vocal selections by Jimmie Calhoun, tenor, with Miss Helen Battle at the piano, and concert singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The deed for the property on which the Rebecca Latimer Felton memorial is to be built was formerly presented to and accepted by the Atlanta Woman's Club. This gift was made with the understanding that Mrs. Dunn would serve as president of the board of directors for life. Through Mrs. Dunn's untiring efforts the Atlanta Woman's Club has had a part in every project of a civic, cultural, philanthropic or social nature, and has maintained a place of the highest regard in Atlanta, the state and the southeast.

Immediately following the program a reception was given to new officers by the retiring administration in the banquet hall.

An interesting feature was the presentation by Mrs. William P. Dunn of a brass plate to Mrs. Arthur H. Hazard, upon which is engraved, "In loving appreciation of service rendered."

Mrs. Dunn paid tribute to Mrs. Hazard's splendid service and loyalty to the club.

Among them being Junior League Store Day (the League taking over Davidson-Paxon's for one day, December 6, and receiving a percentage of the total sales), a children's play, "The Golden Goose" (the properties after wards being sold to the Chattanooga League), a bridge tournament, sponsoring a tennis match and a golf match and receiving a percentage from another golf match in which Bobby Jones played in Charlotte, N. C., modeling in fashion shows, staging several marionette performances, selling duplicate bridge boards, receiving a percentage from various business propositions made from time to time to the League, and benefiting from a substantial reduction in A. J. L. A. dues. In addition, the arts and interests committee derived the proceeds from a series of lectures on music by Hugh Hodgson, a talk on "Rural Life" by Mrs. Hal Davidson and a class on American literature arranged for League members.

Mrs. Harris, who has been treasurer for three terms, and faithfully during this period. Particularly this year, when conditions have been unparalleled, Mrs. Harris has guided the financial affairs of the League with patience and remarkable skill. Many important decisions have had to be made by the treasurer and the members of the finance committee, and the League has, indeed, been fortunate to have had someone at the helm who felt the full responsibility of accounting for a fund belonging to some 300 members. The Junior League should not let the ability with which she has met every situation go unnoticed and to show our appreciation, could we not, following her report this afternoon, express our gratitude, in some measure, for her diligence in our behalf?

The entries from the Atlanta League to the Arts and Interests exhibition which will be a feature of the A. J. L. A. conference in Philadelphia have been sent on by Mrs. Preston Stevens and include a charcoal sketch of Mrs. Joseph Cooper by Mrs. J. P. Garlington, a charcoal sketch of Mrs. Richard Garlington, and one of a colored girl's head by Mrs. Preston Stevens, all of these being prepared at the Junior League Art class, which has studied for the last few weeks under the direction of Mrs. Bush-Brown, well-known Atlanta artists. Besides the exhibits mentioned, a poster showing Atlanta's cultural interests was arranged, and we are indebted to Mrs. W. D. Ellis III for the information used and to Mrs. J. P. Garlington for the little sketches illustrating the chart. We understood that our entries have been accepted and we are sure they will make a creditable showing for Atlanta.

An event of this week is Hospital Tag Day, which takes place Friday, May 12, and will benefit Atlanta's charity hospitals, Scottish Rite and Grady, and the charity wards of Henrietta Eggleston, St. Joseph's, Wesley Memorial and Georgia Baptist hospitals. Many Junior Leaguers are aiding the drive, either under Mrs. Beverly DuBose, chairman for Eggleston, or one of the other five chairmen appointed from each hospital. Practically the entire city will be canvassed, and any gift, no matter how small, will be gratefully received.

Mrs. Edward Van Winkle Jr. and Mrs. Claude McGinnis Jr., Atlanta's delegates to the A. J. L. A. conference May 15-19, will leave the club this week for Philadelphia. As they plan to visit friends in Wilmington and New York before returning home, they are certain to have a thoroughly delightful time while they are away.

The attention of Junior League members is called to the lecture to be given by Frank H. Simonds, of Washington, D. C., internationally-known lecturer, journalist, and author, at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday at the Atlanta Woman's Club and sponsored by the Atlanta Fortnightly Series.

Many Junior Leaguers are actively associated with the Fortnightly Series. Mrs. Reginald Fleet, being one of the two directors; Mrs. Floyd McRae Jr., a member of the advisory board, and Mesdames Joseph Cooper Jr., Clark Howell Jr. and Rembert Marshall being founders.

Mr. Simonds is foreign editor of the Review of Reviews and will have as his subject, "The European Crisis." Orchestra seats are $1 and balcony seats 75 cents. It is expected that the event will bring to a brilliant close the group of interesting lectures sponsored by the Fortnightly Series.

The HONEYMOON MURDER

BY CAROLYN WELLS

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

The third day after Perilla Fairfax and the wealthy Corey Malden are married at the Long Island summer home of John Lovell, her stepfather, Corey dies suddenly in their Washington hotel, where they have stopped en route by motor car to Malden House, his mother's home at Richmond. Two physicians say he died from an unexpected heart weakness. The night before the wedding, Malcolm Fairfax, Perilla's brother, asks for aspirin. Tony Gaskell, best man, who is a successful Philadelphia lawyer, produces some tablets, which he says are better, and not only Malcolm but Corey and the Lovells take them. Just after the wedding, Bob Cole, a friend of Malcolm and as such, recalls to Perilla his threat that if she ever married anyone except him he will kill her, the bridegroom or himself, but Perilla's mother says Bob is only teasing her. Lovell and Malcolm hurry by plane to Perilla after Corey's death. Then they go to Malden House, Madame Malden, as she wishes to be known, greets Perilla with, "You murdered him." That night the old lady is found prowling in Perilla's room. She professes friendship after Malcolm chides her with the madhouse, but Farman, her Richmond lawyer, does not dispute his suspicion. When the will is read, it is found that Corey left the greater part of his large fortune to Perilla. Perilla reaches New York after the funeral in a state of collapse. Malcolm, arriving later, with Mrs. Lovell and Jane Lattimer, her social secretary, that people in Richmond, influenced by Madame Malden's attitude, are gossiping. Perilla consults Fanning Stone, famous detective, who, after questioning her, tells her he suspects one of the wedding guests and asks her to get samples of handwriting of as many of them as possible. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XX.

"Well, not much else, only that Farman is coming up here next week and Carleton will come when you advise him to do so. They have nothing to do with each other, outwardly, you understand. But I did a small bit of shadowing and caught Farman trotting in at Carleton's back gate now and again. Then they'd be closeted in secret session, and I, calling on Mr. Carleton, had to wait until he could see me. I didn't talk real business with him—you told me not to—I just made social calls and flirted with his wife. And I like Mr. Carleton; he's merry and bright; but there's a yellow streak in his make-up somewhere."

And when is Farman to put in an appearance here?" asked Stone.

"Soon. In a few days, I fancy, though I couldn't find out exactly. I think he means to feather his own nest right well out of the Malden millions, aided and abetted by friend Carleton."

"Corey Malden was always too fond of his friends," Stone observed; "he could see no fault in them. An admirable trait, but it doesn't always work out for the best. What did you make of Carmichael?"

"I didn't see much of him, but he seemed to me to ring true. He admires Perilla immensely, but who doesn't? He's not on good terms with Carleton, though he pretends to be. He doesn't like Tony Gaskell, either. And he has a grudge against Mr. Garth. That side of him I didn't like so much. As you say, Malden was too lenient toward his friends, but Carleton is the other way. He has a down on almost everybody and I don't understand it. Why, he hardly knows Tony, and Mr. Garth he has never met. Yet, with all, I trust him—way ahead of Richard Carleton."

"I'm glad to get these hints. Bob, I think I shall go to Washington as soon as Perilla's California party gets started, and what you've told me will be a help. You're going on the trip?"

"If you don't want me here."

"No, I want you there. You're to keep a general watch out and give an alarm if anything is alarming. I fear something may turn up, but I may be over-apprehensive. I'll hold the fort here, and, of course, they'll be better run up there. Mrs. Malden. I'm giving a stirrup-cup party the night before you go, so tell her I'm ready for that when she is."

Bob found Perilla in, and she summoned Mr. Bickie, who was to attend to everything in any way pertaining to the trip. His duties embraced arranging itineraries, telephoning ahead for hotel accommodations, looking after luggage, saying when to go and when to stop; in short, he was the major domo.

They decided to go the next day but one. They would spend the first night in Warren, Ohio, and the second in Columbus. It was decided that Stone's party the next evening should include only those going on the trip. Perilla's parents, and a few others at Perilla's discretion.

The Dunstons, through prominent members of the touring crowd, were unable to be with the others, having accepted invitations to another farewelling among some friends of their own. The guests were gay and merry, but it could be easily seen that it was an effort to preserve this mood.

Perilla, herself, began to waver a little as to the wisdom of her plans. She said so to Tony Gaskell. "I wish you were going, Tony," she said; "you're always so dependable and reliable."

"Lots of things I'd rather be called than those two," Tony made a wry face. "Here, you, Bob! let that bottle alone. I'll give you a highball. Look out for this lad on the trip. Perilla; he's getting too free-handed with the stuff. There, son, that'll do you or now."

Bob grinned and took the modest

NURSE REGAINS HER HEALTH

After Taking Five Bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I am a registered nurse. For three years I was too run-down to work. My condition improved wonderfully after taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It increased my appetite, quieted my nerves, improved my digestion and relieved sleeplessness. I am glad to tell any woman what a splendid medicine this is."—CLARA A. SABIN, 195 Amity St., Brooklyn, New York.

You can depend upon a medicine which has the written endorsement of more than half a million women.

Complexion Cleared Up

"At one time," writes Mrs. Lizzie Falls, of Paris, Texas, "my complexion was muddy and bad. I felt tired and dull. Did not feel like doing anything. My system seemed clogged. I did not have a good taste in my mouth. I believed this trouble came from constipation. I used Black-Draught until my complexion and other things were made clear. I only have to take an occasional dose. I have never found any laxative that gives the satisfaction Black-Draught does."

TARZAN THE APE MAN No. 38

Those on the raft helplessly saw the native dragged in the hippo's jaws beneath the water which stifled his pitiful shrieks. Parker had succeeded in getting the unconscious man onto the raft. Holt climbed after him, helped by Jean. Parker yelled to Riano: "Get to the shore, Riano, get to it!"

"Yes, Bwana," answered the head-man as his boy frantically leaned on the poles. They were making good headway when they were attracted by a splashing and a shriek on the other side of the raft. They saw a man desperately making for their raft, closely followed by a great crocodile.

Parker yelled to the boys: "Get him!" The terrified swimmer reached the raft and started to climb aboard. Two of his fellows rushed to help, but before they could reach him the crocodile grabbed its victim by the leg. Uttering a piercing scream, the boy was dragged off by the scaly monster.

Witnessing the horrid affair, Jean screamed and her father turned away from the sight. "No use, Riano. The shore," he ordered. Riano urged his men on—men who were already frantic with fear. Just as they were within a few yards of the river bank another gruesome thing awaited them.
